ST. JOSEPH.

Miss Carrie Flynn, of Chicago, is the guest of friends here.

Miss Ollie DeCanter has returned from a pleasure trip to Chicago.

Roy K. Moulton and wife left this morning for Ann Arbor on a visit.

Joseph Watts, a brother-in-law of Martin Wright, the man who was arrested last Monday for obtaining money under false pretenses, was arrested this morning on the charge of being connected with the forgeries. Wright, the man arrested, cannot read or write and it is claimed that Watts made out the checks and that Wright secured the money on them.

Word was received here this morning that Mrs. Charles Lysaght residing at White Hall died at her home in that place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Lysaght formerly lived in this city until Mr. Lysaght was given the position of keeper of the life saving station at White Hall. The remains will be brought to this city for interment, the funeral occurring from St. Joseph's church tomorrow morning.

Press: A sanitarium, with all modern improvements and appliances, is one of the possibilities for this city. The new institution is the outcome of the unequalled success of Dr. Raschbaum in the treatment of hay fever and asthma, and it will be devoted mainly to the treatment of those diseases. During the past few weeks a great number of people have been treated at the doctor's office for the troubles mentioned and most of them are as anxious to have the public know of the relief they have obtained as the doctor could possibly be, and those who have learned of the projected sanitarium are exceedingly pleased over the prospect. Some of them, of course, as averse to having their names published in connection with their afflictions, but any one interested may call at the doctor's office and examine a great array of names belonging to those who have no scruples in their desire to help suffering humanity.

It has also been decided to abandon temporarily, at least, the plan of sending several thousand men from the Pacific coast to Honolulu, there to be held in reserve for use in Philippines in case of emergency.

Washington, Sept. 16.—At the regular cabinet meeting held today Secretary Day tendered his resignation and took leave of his colleagues. The cabinet reviewed the final draft of instructions to the peace commissioners. During the meeting a telegram from Gen. Otis was read in which he stated that affairs in Manila were proceeding smoothly and there was no immediate danger of trouble.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Gen. Otis telegraphed the war department today that no more troops were needed at Manila at present. The custom receipts are exceeding the expenditures. The sales of licenses for past times opposed to the public morals have been discontinued.

Over 500 deaf and blind people cured in Sault Ste Marie, Michigan. Below are a few of the many cured.

Thursday afternoon they removed a growth from the ear of M. A. Stratford, who lives near Newberry, and he could hear within 15 minutes after beginning the operation. He had not heard out of that ear for 10 years.

Mrs. Ameline L. Roberts, Algoma, Ont., says: "I called at Park Hotel to see Dr. Davis & Co. Friday morning, and began their treatment, and after taking two treatments during the day could hear much better. I feel sure that I will soon hear as well as I ever did. Have never seen or used anything like their treatment before."

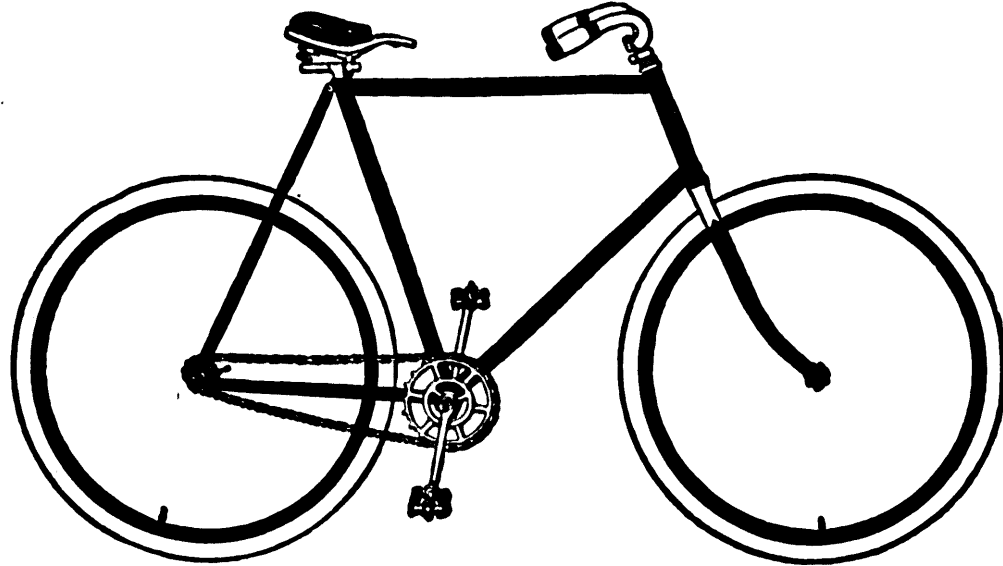

Henry Lark, of the Soo, a farmer, who had a growth, (Polypus) removed from the nose, says that they understand their business.

C. G. Grell, a visitor in this city from Cleveland, O., says that Dr. Davis & Co. removed an enlarged tonsil from his throat which had bothered him for years, and is more than pleased with their skill.

C. L. Hammond, of Soo, Ont., says after taking four treatments for deafness from Dr. Davis & Co., who are at Park Hotel, that he can now hear a watch tick which he has not before for 3 years.

Mr. H. M. Johnson, a prominent life insurance man from Detroit, but now stopping at the Park Hotel, Sault Ste Marie, highly recommends Dr. Davis & Co., who are at the Park Hotel. He has been under their treatment for 3 days in this city and they now have him cured.

A BIG CLASH.

Pingree and Burrows Come Together at Soldiers' Reunion.

The Senator Was Forced to Advocate Income Tax.

St. Louis, Mich., Sept. 16.—Governor Pingree in his speech to the soldiers and sailors here yesterday afternoon talked of the war, equal taxation, Burrows' position and a young man's chance in life. He called the present military system a flint-lock system. Black powder and red tape, he said, belonged alike to the flint-lock system, and much of the suffering in the present war was due to it.

The governor gave his usual views on the stamp tax and income tax, and said that if the republican party did not pass the equal taxation bill there would be one less in the republican party in Michigan, and he said: "We will get a party that will pass it." There was hearty applause.

Senator Burrows then spoke. He said he had not come to talk politics in this non-partisan gathering nor to indulge in personal recrimination. He did not wish to talk of these things at this time, but since the governor had seen fit to personally assail him and his record, he thought it but fair that he should defend himself. He said he had voted for the income tax until it was declared unconstitutional. He desired to make it constitutional, and he pledged his support to it.

The senator said Pingree had misrepresented him. Governor Pingree arose and tapped him on the shoulder, saying: How about federal appointees, senator?"

The senator closed, begging the crowd's pardon for the "disgraceful scene."

ENGINEER CRAZED.

Big Four Train Crew Narrowly Escape Death.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 16.—Trainmen on the Big Four had a terrible experience last Saturday. When Engineer Charles Close took his through freight run out of Cincinnati for Bellefontaine and Cleveland that morning he was suffering from a headache. When near Pendleton he suddenly became mentally unbalanced. He began testing the engine's speed and the long train of forty cars sped along at a dangerous rate. He passed switches below this city, paying no attention to them and dashed into the crowded yards without blowing a whistle. Instead of stopping at the freight and passenger depots, he threw the throttle wide open and the long train dashed through the city like mad. The conductor and brakeman had by this time realized that something was wrong and had set the breaks on some of the cars, but they went through at a forty-mile gait. Between this city and Chesterfield the brakemen and conductor managed to get into the cab and subdue the engineer. They ran the train into Bellefontaine. When the engineer stepped off the train at that terminal he collapsed and has been in a serious mental condition since.

The Early Umbrella.

We may infer from the following announcement, copied from The Female Tatler of Dec. 12, 1709, that the umbrella at this period was regarded as too offensive for the use of a man: "The young gentleman borrowing the umbrella belonging to Wills' coffee house, Cornhill, of the mistress, is hereby advertised, that to dry from head to foot on the like occasion he shall be welcome to the maid's pattens." About this time it was customary to keep an umbrella in the halls of larger houses for use in rainy weather, for shelter in proceeding from the house to a covered conveyance, and doubtless the one alluded to in the advertisement above quoted was for that purpose.

A Rhodes' Anecdote.

Here is a new anecdote about Cecil Rhodes: In 1884 he was severely attacked in the press, and notably by one journalist to whom he had given very considerable assistance.

"I do call that man a hound," said one of Mr. Rhodes' friends, "after all you have done for him."

Mr. Rhodes flushed up, and with one of his sudden though rare explosions burst out with, "Hound yourself! Do you think I wanted to bribe the man?"

TWO CENTS

HE IS A HERO

Donahue, the Detroit News
War Correspondent...

"Kit," the woman war correspondent of the Toronto Mail and Empire, writes as follows of brave "Denny" Donahue, of the Detroit Evening News, who endeared himself to every Michigan boy in the war:

"He had a brilliant record, though not one that has been vaunted in the daily papers. Mr. Donahue accompanied the 33d Michigan volunteers and was with them at the fight at Aguadores on the historic 1st of July. The duty of this regiment was to uncover the Spanish batteries at Aguadores, so that the fleet could destroy their works and this the 33d did most effectively. And Donahue was in the thick of the fight. Dressed in the black shirt, blue trousers and tan leggings of the trooper, Donahue stayed with his regiment under the hills that towered far above the coast line.

"On a railroad track near by the tangle amid which the boys crouched, four or five box cars were standing. A little bunch of five men were behind these trying to dislodge the enemy from the blockhouse above, while from the tangle across the way the Michigan boys were popping their Krags. The Spaniards began to throw shells. Down the track these missiles came with that hollow roar and scream that once heard can never be forgotten. One fell into the little bunch of men and, exploding, killed three and wounded the other two. One of these had his hand shot off at the wrist, and, screaming with pain, he held up the stump, from which the blood sprang in gouts. The captain in command of the 33d ordered his men to lie low and in no way attract the fire of the enemy. The shells still screamed along the railway track.

"The wounded men began to cry for help and water. Donahue crept forward, and whispered to the captain of the troop that not being a soldier, but only a newspaper man, he owed no allegiance to anyone, guessed he would go forward to the men's relief. And the gallant fellow started, and stepped quietly out under that awful fire. And he reached the men with his water bottle, and relieved their thirst, and helped Surgeon Vaughan, who came up at the moment to bind the wounded arm of the lad who had lost his hand. Shot and shell fell about the gallant fellow as he faced down the road to the rescue; shell and shot fell about the two brave men as they stood there. 'Only a newspaper man,' said poor Donahue. Yes, but a hero, too."

HE IS PENITENT.

Rev. George B. Kulp Confesses the Sin
That Found Him Out.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 16.—A most dramatic and impressive scene took place at yesterday morning's session of the Michigan M. E. conference, when Presiding Elder Graham arose to report for the Grand Rapids district.

"I am called upon to perform the most trying duty that has ever fallen to my lot," he said. "I hold in my hand the parchments of Rev. George B. Kulp, formerly an honored member of this conference, which I turn over to the secretary."

Rev. Graham then stated that when he heard of the scandal he sent a committee to Kulp, who simply said: "I have no explanation to give." Graham then took charge of the pulpit and made an investigation which, he said, "appalled my own heart. Such evidence I have never met before, and, God grant, I may never meet again."

Fervent "amens" came from all parts of the church. Presiding Elder Graham then read the following letter at Kulp's request:

I have sinned and my punishment is greater than I alone can bear. If there is a way back to God's favor and peace, I want to find it. If there are those whom I have helped in the days when I was faithful, I need their prayers. I return my parchments and ask to withdraw from the ministry and membership in the Methodist Episcopal church. I am, yours unworthily,

GEORGE B. KULP.

Kulp was permitted by unanimous consent to withdraw under rule 19, which leaves him in all respects as if expelled.

THE NILES DISTRICT

Conference Report of Presiding Elder Van Schoick.

Lansing, Sept. 16.—Rev. R. W. Van Schoick reported the Niles district in fine condition. During the past year the Coldwater district camp meeting association, Coldwater district Epworth league and Coldwater district Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary societies, were by the changes in the district boundaries, annihilated, but their officers and members are giving their energies to the Niles organizations, thus booming the latter. About 700 conversions have fallen to the lot of the district. Several thousand dollars' indebtedness has been paid, and improvements to the amount of over $2,000 made. Mrs. Mary Lysle has donated a parsonage to the church at Dowagiac, and Mrs. Soule bequeathed her residence, worth $1,000, at Watervliet to the church there for a parsonage. All of which tends to show a healthy interest in the Master's work throughout the district.

MASS MEETING.

Congressman Hamilton and Col. L. M.
Ward Spoke Yesterday.

The afternoon session at the republican county convention was the pleasant part of the day and one that was thoroughly enjoyed by every delegate present.

Chairman L. C. Fyfe called the meeting to order shortly after 1 o'clock and after a selection by the Berrien Springs band he introduced Col. L. M. Ward of this city who made a short but eloquent and enthusiastic speech. He spoke of the noble work of McKinley, Pingree and the fifty-fifth congress during the late war with Spain and did not forget the brave boys who enlisted in the cause of our country.

The main speech of the day was that made by Congressman E. L. Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton was greeted with loud applause and was constantly interrupted with applause during his speech. He possesses a gift of oratory which commands the attention of everyone and his speech yesterday was one of the finest efforts ever delivered in this county.

He spoke in glowing words of McKinley and the manner in which he had handled the affairs of the greatest nation on the face of the earth in time of war and heartily endorsed the course of Governor Pingree.

THE FAIR IS NAMED.

Benton Harbor Street Carnival
Is Now an Assured Fact.

COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED.

Dates of the Carnival Have Been Fixed as October 11, 12, 13, 14.

The Benton Harbor street carnival is now a certainty and to make it a grand success is the wish of every public spirited citizen.

The meeting called in the city hall last night by Chairman Hopkins was well attended and by a unanimous vote of the business men present it was decided to hold the carnival October 11, 12, 13 and 14, just after the Kalamazoo street fair and before the carnival at Grand Rapids and the jubilee in Chicago. By doing this we will have all the attractions and entertainments which visit Kalamazoo and which wish to put in the time until the Grand Rapids fair starts.

Chairman Hopkins appointed the following committees last night. The first named in each committee acts as chairman:

Finance—John T. Owens, H. B. Volheim, Harry Pound, P. W. Hall, H. C. Mason, George L. Edloff, L. M. Barnett, P. Tonnelier.

Entertainment—C. L. Young, John Deaner, George L. Edloff, Mrs. John T. Owens, Mrs. J. R. Price, Mrs. R. M. Jones.

Decoration—George Warren, J. O. Rowe, Roy Wallace, Harry Pound, Lewis Engleman.

Music—H. A. Foeltzer, Charles Bowman, A. P. Cady, S. A. Bailey, F. A. Hobbs.

Advertising—C. J. Peck, A. Ricaby, E. W. Moore, Fred Hamlin, Chester Sweet, George L. Edloff.

Privilege—H. B. Volheim, J. A. Crawford, George L. Edloff, A. H. Peters, P. W. Hall, R. P. Chaddock.

Transportation—Dickinson, Keavey, James Mahoney, C. K. Farmer.

Now that the carnival is a sure go it is requested that everyone take an interest and when writing to your friends out of the city mention the fact that Benton Harbor has a carnival October 11, 12, 13 and 14, and invite them to be in the city.

Their Kismet.

Proverbs, like grammatical rules, are liable to exceptions. For instance, the familiar saying, "Lightning does not strike twice in the same place," had its exception during the bombardment of Widin by the Russian batteries of Kalafat on the opposite shore of the Danube. The incident is described by Dr. Ryan in his book, "Under the Red Crescent," the Turkish equivalent for the Red Cross society.

The shells from the heavy siege guns at Kalafat were dropping incessantly within the fortress. One of them as it exploded tore a great hole in the ground large enough to contain a horse. A Turkish woman, who was cowering with her three children under the shadow of the wall, took refuge in the hole.

According to the law of chances, it was the least likely spot to be again hit by a shell. But scarcely had she crept in and drawn the three children after her when another shell, leaving the cannon's mouth at Kalafat, nearly two miles away, dropped into the same hole and blew mother and children to atoms. To the Turks the grim exception was a vivid illustration of their doctrine of kismet, or fate. The woman's hour had come; kismet led her into that hole; it was the place assigned for her departure from earth.

Another shell struck the angle of a house, tore down the walls and reduced one half of a room to ruins. In the other half of the room were a Turkish woman and two children. They were not even hurt. Their kismet, according to Turkish ideas, saved them.

THERE should be nothing unfair about the street fair.

It is reported that Coroner Brown has purchased a grindstone.

CHAIRMAN Bynum of the national gold democracy has resigned. It will be no disappointment to the gold democracy as that organization resigned many months ago.

SENATOR Blakeslee need have no anxiety. If he's elected he will be happy. If he fills a political grave the gloom will not be dark, for a Starr will shine above the grave.

GEN. Cassius M. Clay doesn't care so much that little Dora marries a young sawmill hand today but he is a little sorry that one of his farms was carried away by the fair Dora.

WHEN a convention comes out for both Pingree and Burrows it is well to suppose that it has a sharp axe for one or the other. The governor and senator are not turtles that can live in the same tank.

EVERY citizen should attend the meeting of the board of trade this evening. President Miller has a proposition that is all right, and Benton Harbor can secure a paying little factory if she only will.

THE street fair will prove a godsend to Benton Harbor in more ways than one. It will beat the street orators out of their political jobs as the fair and not the election will be the uppermost topic in the minds of the public.

GEN. Toral, the commander who surrendered the Spanish forces at Santiago, was received at Vigo, Spain, with hisses and was driven back to the ship from which he landed. Dead heroes are the only kind that Spain cares for and it's about all the kind she has.

WE don't think it is just fair in Mayor Starr. He told the democrats at the senatorial convention yesterday that the only streak of sunlight in the situation was that the people did not really know how badly the corporations and trusts were robbing them. This was all right, but the mayor then proceeded to spread a black blanket over the little strip of sunlight by describing how bad the folks were off. The mayor will make a lot of happy blind men unhappy seeing men.

THERE is a chance for every citizen to contribute a mite toward the street fair. To make the fair a success it may be made will require a few hundred dollars beyond what has already been subscribed. What Benton Harbor wants is a fair that will not be distanced by Grand Rapids or Kalamazoo and such a fair the city can have.

ELKHART Truth: The rivalry between Benton Harbor and St. Joe is conspicuous at all times. The lake front park in the latter city is adorned with a beautiful monument, recently unveiled in honor of the "five brave firemen" who lost their lives in the burning of Yore's opera house two years ago. If history is not inaccurate, 14 brave men gave up their lives on the night of that fire. But the other nine lived in Benton Harbor. Their names are not on the monument. Will Benton Harbor now erect a shaft of almost twice the size of the St. Joe monument?

A Fibreless Cheated.
 One day when Queen Victoria was present in her carriage at a military review the princess royal, then rather a willful girl of 13 or 14, sitting on the front seat, seemed disposed to be rather familiar and coquettish with some young officers of the escort. Her majesty gave several reproving looks without avail. At length, in flirting her handkerchief over the sides of the carriage, the princess dropped it, too evidently not accidentally. Instantly two or three young officers sprang from their saddles to return it, but the voice of the queen staid them.
 "Stop, gentlemen, leave it just where it lies," she said. "Now, my daughter, get down from the carriage and pick up your handkerchief." There was no help for it. The royal footman let down the steps for the little lady, who proceeded to lift from the dust the pretty piece of cambric and lace. She blushed a good deal as she turned her head saucily, but was doubtless angry enough.

The Screw of Archimedes.
 Archimedes of Syracuse, when he was in Egypt, invented a machine for pumping bilge water out of the holds of ships. This instrument was also used in the delta for purposes of irrigation. Diodorus Siculus twice refers to it (i. 34, 2; v. 37, 3). A curious model of such an instrument, probably of the late Ptolemaic period, has been found in lower Egypt. It consists of a terra cotta cylinder with a screw inside it 10 inches long and 4 1/2 inches in diameter. Near the center of the outside is a band with crosspieces. These may represent footholds and suggest that the machine was worked after the manner of the treadmill. Such screws were probably made of wood. No other example of this screw seems to have come to light.—American Journal of Archaeology

GUARDING THE MINT.

HOW THE PHILADELPHIA INSTITUTION IS PROTECTED.

Little Chance For Any One to Get Rich, Quickly by Helping Himself to Uncle Sam's Treasure—Patrols, Revolvers and Winchester in Plenty.

Probably not one person out of a hundred who pass by the Philadelphia mint, that grim looking edifice at Chestnut and Juniper streets, after nightfall realizes what is going on inside. There is nothing mean about Uncle Sam, but he is determined that any one who gets his money shall get it honestly and by process duly laid down. Therefore he has taken all kinds of precautions to properly protect, especially at night, the millions upon millions piled up in the vaults.

The doors of the mint are closed every weekday promptly at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. After that hour no one but mint employees have any business within the walls which inclose so much money, and no one can either stay in or get in without a special permit from the superintendent. Needless to say, this is difficult to obtain.

Simultaneously with the closing of the doors at 4 o'clock the first shift of the night guard goes on duty. The shift is composed of the captain of the guard and 11 stalwart men. As the men file out to begin their round each one is handed a big Colt's revolver of the most approved pattern and loaded with big cartridges.

From then on till midnight seven of the 11 guards patrol without cessation every floor of the inside of the mint, from the corridors of the gloomy vaults where, away down in the earth, are stowed eighty odd million dollars in silver and almost as much gold, to the top floor, where there is nothing more valuable than machinery. Placed at frequent intervals throughout the corridors are electrical devices for enabling the captain of the guard to keep tabs on his men. Each of these little machines communicates with the rotunda opposite the Chestnut street entrance to the mint. Here it is that the captain is stationed all through the long hours of his shift. Every two minutes and a half the central machine in the rotunda denotes the presence of some one of the guard at some particular station in the building. If it doesn't, then the captain knows that something is wrong, and he immediately proceeds to discover what it is.

But it has been a long time since the little machine failed to send forth its announcement at the proper time, for the mint guards are patrolling up and down outside the big building, carefully watching that no suspicious characters approach too near the vast treasure left in their care.

Promptly at midnight the second shift of the night guard puts in an appearance to relieve the early shift. It is also composed of a captain and 11 men, and they are split up, as the other squad, into inside and outside details. From midnight on until 7 o'clock in the morning they follow in the footsteps of the first shift, with every faculty alert to catch an intruder.

The big revolvers are not the only weapons upon which the guards have to rely. On each side of the main corridor leading from the Chestnut street entrance stands a walnut case. Through the polished glass front of one frown 20 Winchester rifles. The other contains as many ugly looking carbines. To grab these dispensers of death would be but the work of an instant for the guards, and then woe be unto any man or men upon whom it might be found necessary to turn them.

For the revolvers there is kept constantly on hand in the mint 500 rounds of ammunition, and for the rifles and carbines 2,500 rounds. Each of the guards is an expert in the use of both the pistol and the gun, and each is endowed with a plentiful stock of courage; hence a combination capable of successfully resisting almost anything less than a regiment.

The superintendent and assistant custodian both talked to the reporter about the methods in use to protect the mint and its contents. Both smiled significantly when the possibility of one getting away with a portion of the vast treasure was suggested.

"It would be folly for any one to try it," was the superintendent's only comment. To it the assistant custodian nodded emphatic assent.

"I have been here for a good many years," the latter said, "and no such attempt has ever been made. It is practically impossible for any one to break into the mint from the outside, and no one could secrete himself in the building during the hours when it is open to visitors and hope to avoid discovery. We search every nook and corner of the structure carefully as soon as the doors are closed for the day, and you may rest assured if any one who had no business within these walls was found he would regret the day he was born."

In addition to the two shifts of night guards, the superintendent and assistant custodian have a habit of dropping in at the mint at odd hours of the night to see that everything is going on all right.

The mint is connected with the central telephone station, and should there be trouble the captain of the guard could communicate with police headquarters in a brief space of time.

"If you come across anybody who thinks he can get rich quickly by helping himself to our coin," remarked the superintendent in parting, "just advise him to think it over carefully first."

In compliance with the superintendent's suggestion the advice is hereby given.

And it is pretty good advice to follow too.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The population of Antwerp includes 90,000 Germans, who, it is said, buy their goods of German merchants only.

SEEK METHODS THAT MAKE WELL. Allopathic, homeopathic, hydropathic, hygienic, psychopathic, electric, physio-medical, dosimetric, bio-chemic, critical and other systems investigated and the best principles of each applied for conditions in which they have proven the most beneficial. No one school of medicine has all the good things, there is some one remedy that is best of all in each. The real physician must represent not one school system or pathy, but the healing art in all its entirety, study and compare all curative measures then select and apply the pleasantest, safest and surest. It is better to cure by any system that will accomplish such result than be obstinately orthodox in methods. The motto of a true healer is "Not code or creed, but cure."

TO THE PUBLIC It is but just to you and myself that I make some mention of my fitness for the work I would undertake. I come of a medical family. I have attended and hold credentials from leading colleges of various schools or systems of medicine. For years I have successfully conducted a large practice. I have held high office in state and national medical societies and received honorary professional recognition abroad. I have had considerable hospital experience, was an intimate associate of distinguished experts and familiar with their methods; am something of a medical author and have been professor in reputable medical colleges. These statements can be easily verified. If they command me to your confidence it will give me pleasure to professionally advise and assist healthward all who need and desire my services. Office practice preferred, but if properly arranged for, visits will be made any distance. Respectfully,

A Musical Sentry.

The author of "With Plumer in Matebeleland" tells of some humorous sentry incidents.

A trooper had gone down to a water hole after the sentries were posted. On returning he was challenged, but, not knowing the countersign, the sentry refused to let him pass.

"Hang it all, you know me well enough! What's the use of playing the fool at this time of night?" pleaded the soldier.

"Can't be helped. You know the orders, and unless you give the countersign there you are, and there you will remain!" retorted the sentry. And he did remain there until the visiting officer admitted him in the small hours of the morning.

On another occasion the countersign was "Nordenfeldt," the name of a certain kind of gun. A soldier, on approaching the picket, had a hazy recollection that some sort of a gun had been mentioned as the countersign and in answer to the challenge gave "Maxim."

"That's not it," replied the sentry.

"Oh, well, the other kind of gun!"
hazarded the man.

"Well, that's near enough. Pass in,"
said the sentry.

An orderly officer, on going his rounds, was astonished to find the sentry singing at him in this fashion:

"Hi tiddle do hi ti! Who goes there?"

"What do you mean, sir, by challenging in that fashion?" asked the officer.

"The last time I was on duty, sir, I was told to challenge in a more musical voice, and that's the only tune I know, sir," replied the sentry.

The Evolution of the Sideboard.

The dresser began service in the kitchen as a table, advancing until it was composed of a top and two shelves below, supported by four legs. It was then used not so much as a place for dressing the meats as a serving table, on which dishes were placed before being allotted to the members of the household. At a later period a portion of the dresser became inclosed, and after that an extra shelf, with sometimes a hood, was placed on it. It was not then an article of kitchen furniture, but stood in the hall or living room. As a result of the desire to reduce the quantity of furniture in the hall the credence and dresser were combined as one article, with a closet and shelf below and several shelves above, the whole surmounted by a canopy. Then it was like some of our sideboards, though it was not known by that name until the eighteenth century, when it assumed the long, low table form, with drawers and cupboards below. The name sideboard prior to this had, however, been applied to tables as early as the sixteenth century.—Architectural Record.

Scotland.

Prior to the year 258, which witnessed its invasion by the Scots, a tribe who inhabited the northern portions of the country now known as Ireland, Scotland bore the name of Caledonia, literally the hilly country of the Caeli, or Gaeli. The word cael, or gael, is a corruption of Gadhel, signifying in the native tongue "a hidden rover," while Scot, derived from the native scuto, means practically the same thing—i. e., a wanderer. The Caledonians were the inhabitants of the highlands, the territories of the lowlands were the Picts, so called from their description by the Romans, picti, painted men.—"Names and Their Meaning."

A Peculiar Problem.

The Longbow gives some amusing pieces of Lewis Carroll's humor from the forgotten pages of Oxford pamphlets.
During the election at Oxford in 1865
he gave vent to the following Euclidean definition:

"Plain superficiality is the character of a speech in which, any two points being taken, the speaker is found to lie wholly with regard to those two points."

A note is also given on the right appreciation of examiners: "A takes in ten books and gets a third class, B takes in the examiners and gets a second.
Find the value of the examiners in terms of books; also their value in terms when no examination is held."

Sandy's Retort.

The parish minister of C— is a practical though not a cultured preacher. The other Sunday, when on his way home at the close of the afternoon service, he overtook Sandy Smart, the village half wit, slowly trudging along, and, being a bit of a wag, addressed
him as follows:

"You've got an excellent pair of shoes on, Sandy; but, losh, man, they're sadly in need of blacking!"

"Aye, sir," readily replied Sandy.
"They're like yer sermons—uncle destitute o' polish!"—Dundee People's Journal.

Both Well Posted.

There is a story current in Washington of a charming girl whose partner said to her as in waltzing they just missed a statue of the Venus of Milo:
"We mustn't dance too near that or somebody will accuse us of breaking it."
The girl turned her lovely eyes on the statue. "Why," said she, "somebody's broken it already."

A Problem of the Drama.

It seems rather odd that actresses and singers cannot be wedded to their art without being divorced from their husbands.—Salt Lake Herald.

VERY GRIM PICTURE.

Mayor Starr Painted It at the Dowagiac Union Democratic Convention Yesterday.

HAPPY SIDE OF SITUATION

Is That the People Do Not Know How Badly They Are Being Robbed.

Dowagiac, Sept. 16.—Mayor John V. Starr of St. Joseph was nominated here for senator by the democratic and silver fusion forces. Hon. Henry Chamberlain was chairman of the convention and C. F. Martin, the famous colored man, was secretary.

Mayor Rix of Dowagiac was Cass county's candidate. On the first ballot he received 10 votes and Starr 24. The nomination of Mr. Starr was made unanimous. Mr. Starr and Judge O'Hara of St. Joseph made ringing speeches.

In his address of acceptance Mr. Starr said, after he had paid a tribute to the democratic party of today as the party of Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln which had pitched its tents close to the hearts of the common people:

MAYOR STARR
Democratic Nominee for State Senator

"It is unnecessary for me to go further into details reciting from the long catalogue of criminal and unparalleled legislative favoritism in this country, which is the prime cause of the deplorable conditions that exist. It is too notoriously apparent to the intelligent mind to admit of doubt. We know that the blight of poverty caused by class legislation crosses our land today; but this fact will not defer thousands of republican gold standard orators from shouting 'prosperity' and 'national honor' from every rostrum around which a hundred persons can be gathered. They will point to the rich and populous cities that dot our magnificent country from the Atlantic to the Pacific; to the railroads that girdle the land; to the net work of telephone and telegraph wires that lace the air; to the commerce of the lakes and the commerce of the sea as evidence of prosperity. But they will not mention the fact that in our rich and populous cities not one person in ninety-five own their own homes. They will conceal the fact that not one person out of fifty thousand own stock in the telephone, telegraph and express companies, sharing in the enormous dividends declared annually by these gigantic robber corporations who refuse to pay their share of the war tax. They will attempt to bury deep in the dark dungeon of deceit the fact that not one in twenty-five thousand persons have any part or share in the profits of transportation by land or sea, except to pay tribute to the kings of wealth, a large portion of whom reside in Europe. With all the evidence of wealth that can be produced, the vast army of idle men and millions of starving, homeless humanity, who like the lowly Nazarene 'hath not where to lay his head' is a mockery of the prated conditions as claimed to exist.

"The serious truth is fast dawning upon the people that we no longer have a government of the people, by the people and for the people. But we have instead an invisible empire with the wealth producers parading as sovereigns, when in fact they are slaves. We have instead of free government a systemized plan of robbery and confiscation, with the invisible hand of greed reaching out and drawing in by due process of law, the larger portion of the products of honest toil to swell and make larger the already enormous aggregation of wealth.

"These are only dim pictures of the real problems that confront the American public for solution, and I believe it is fortunate that the masses do not know and understand the extent to which they are robbed and plundered through the crafty process of absorption lest it would be impossible to restrain them and prevent a French revolution in this country.

"In the presence of these deplorable and incontrovertible conditions you have a right to ask and know my views relative to remedial legislation.

"At the next session of the Michigan legislature the important duty of selecting two United States senators is involved; and it is imperative that they are men of unflinching integrity and free from the affliction of 'itching palms.' It is also imperative that they favor and will vote for the restoration of our constitutional coinage of both silver and gold without any discrimination against either.

"As to my views on remedial legislation in the interest of labor, the producing classes and our legitimate business enterprises, I favor and demand the resumption of the mint to the free unlimited coinage of both silver and gold at the legal ratio of 16 to 1. This is the most effective step in remedial legislation that can be taken to save our business and industrial process from the mighty blow to be dealt by the money power.

Did you ever See a SNOW Storm in Summer?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow-storm.

No need of this snowstorm. As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation. It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address: DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

and cripple the machinery of aggregated wealth.

"The next important step to be taken is to relieve the national banking fraternity from the responsibility of conducting the government business and establish the government fraternity in the national banking business."

Mayor Starr closed by saying that if elected he would be an impartial servant of the entire district and not any one locality. He proclaimed his usual earnest faith in Bryan as the leader of the people.

The ladies of the G. A. R. held a very enjoyable meeting in the G. A. R. hall last Wednesday afternoon. We noticed that "our president" was in a hurry to get through with the work and later on said it being her birthday she had a treat for us in the shape of peaches, pears and grapes and then our conductor, Mrs. Lewis, said it was her birthday too, but neither one could tell how old she was. The ladies planned to call on Sister Tatman before her departure for the sunny south. Thursday afternoon we boarded the car, passing her home, stopped of course, and were treated to all the fruit we cared for. Another surprise awaited us when we were invited to eat ice cream and cake. We bade her goodbye knowing her enterprise in the south will not be a failure. She knows how to treat her guests.
